Left: the trails are well marked and there are periodic signs to offer directions.

Below: Smoky Bridge is awesome!

Carter Caves State Park

Above: Raven Bridge

Upper right: the geologic formations are fascinating

Right and below: Breath-taking scenery around every turn! Carter Caves, while known for its underground caves, I think is better for its above ground sights!

And, of course, no one can visit a Kentucky state park without stopping at the lodge for the lunch buffet before departing! :-)
