

Miscellaneous Street Scenes

New York City April 17—18, 2010

New York city has many interesting street scenes. This photo collection is a miscellaneous collection of sights and images of the streets of New York City. Above right: Erin & Jen pose in front of Zarin Fabrics which is featured in a reality TV show.

Below and right: the Doughnut Plant, which is an acclaimed bakery in lower Manhattan.

Miscellaneous Street Scenes

New York City April 17—18, 2010

Above left:
Shopping district streetscape

Left: Union Square in Lower Manhattan

Below left: Vertical car park
storage system

Miscellaneous Street Scenes

New York City April 17—18, 2010

Different ways of getting around Manhattan, one luxury (left) and the other for everyone else! (above)

Preferred way of getting around the streets by going underground in the subway!

Miscellaneous Street Scenes

New York City April 17—18, 2010

Where Erin works—Zac Posner is located on the third floor, left half, of the building pictured above—and below with Erin standing in front!

Steve Wiser, AIA
WiserAIA@Hotmail.com www.WiserDesigns.com